WE ♥ BLOGGERS...

We love the industry's diverse selection of fashion bloggers. Every week, we'll be calling on the web's *haute*st trend spotters (bloggers) to style our favourite designer items! The goal? To introduce our readers to the runway's latest and greatest, as well as the digital world's most fashion-forward connoisseurs.

Tell our readers why you decided to start blogging.

My boyfriend actually pushed me to do it over 2 years ago, saying that I loved fashion, and that it would be a great way to share my passion. It started small and became more popular over time; now I'm addicted to it.

What is your favourite thing about being a fashion blogger?

The discoveries. I'm very lucky to be able to experiment and see what's going on in fashion in Montreal, and I love sharing it with my readers. I'm always on the look out for fashion and beauty finds, great street style looks, fabulous events and fun special projects.

The goal of your blog is to....

Share my experiments, and my love for fashion. I hope my readers like what I have to offer and enjoy reading me every week; and of course I hope my blog grows, and takes me to bigger things.

How would you describe your personal style? Are there any celebrities or particular decades that inspire your closet?

Casual chic with an edge? I love incorporating trendy elements to my wardrobe, and adapting it to my style (which is a mix of high and low). You can never go wrong with a great blazer, skinny jeans and a pair of wedges. I also never over analyze an outfit; I tend to just throw something on and work it. I love the style of Alexa Chung, Kate Bosworth, Rachel Bilson and Diane Kruger.

What is your favourite thing about our item of the week ('Black Melange' bootie):

I love the mix of different textures (ostrich, snake-skin, pony hair) on this bootie by Stuart Weitzman - it's so luxurious. And don't let its high heel fool you, it's actually really comfortable; which is a must when you are at an event for a couple of hours.

When it comes to shopping - what would you say is your guilty pleasure (shoes, bags, accessories...)?

I am definitely a shoe addict. A fabulous pair of high heels is the perfect finishing touch to any looks.
