

HOLIDAY MOOD

November 5, 2017

As of today, I only have one month of school left before the Christmas Holidays. I am already in full on holiday mode watching festive movies and buying presents. My outfits are also getting cozier as you can see here. I paired a classic navy dress from Eve Gravel's current collection with my fluffy cream coat. I love the mix of textures with the coat and the draping of the dress. To complete the look I added my trusted leather boots and my comfy wool beanie. All of Eve Gravel's fall collection seems so cozy and I love the colours she used. It's always great to see what local designers are doing and to encourage them!

What are you wearing this season?
